

We are honored and privileged to have

Professor John Jung

as our Speaker

Chopsticks: In the Land of Cotton

What a great way to entertain your friends, and get a group of 10 for a complete table.
What a great way to reciprocate by inviting all your friends.
Bring your husbands, partners, friends, aunts and uncles to hear this great presentation.

DATE: MARCH 28, SUNDAY
TIME: 11: 30 AM
PLACE: CHINA STIX RESTAURANT
2110 East El Camino Real
Santa Clara, CA 95050-4055
(408) 244-1684

Sweet and Sour: Life in Chinese Family Restaurants

Alcohol, Other Drugs, and Behavior: Psychological Research Perspectives, Second Edition

Psychology of Alcohol and Other Drugs: A Research Perspective

Southern Fried Rice: Life in A Chinese Laundry in the Deep South

Chinese Laundries: Tickets to Survival on Gold Mountain

Chopsticks in the Land of Cotton: Lives of Mississippi Delta Chinese Grocers

Biography of John Jung

Born in Macon, Georgia, where his family, the only Chinese in the city, lived above their laundry. After moving to California, he majored in psychology at U. C. Berkeley and went on to earn a Ph.D. at Northwestern University.

John Jung says, "My journey into an attempt to understand how my ethnic identity was formed led me to write a memoir that I eventually published in 2005 as "Southern Fried Rice: Life in A Chinese Laundry in the Deep South." Most people I know in California are puzzled when they learn of my southern roots, wondering why my parents settled in Georgia where there were so few Chinese. I soon realized from response from readers and audiences where I gave book talks/signings that here was an important story to preserve and share but no one was recording this bit of the Chinese American experience. Several people, for example, shared that they too grew up in cultural isolation where they were the only Chinese people in their communities and/or they also grew up helping in their parents' laundry".

cut here ----- cut here

Name: _____ Email /Phone: _____ Amount Enclosed: _____

Name of Other Attendees: _____

Mail to MURIEL KAO: 20747 Kreisler Court
Saratoga, CA. 95070
No later than March 24

COST: $15.00 Per Person
Make Check payable to Chi Am Circle